

The Psychological Toll of Leaving the Ultra-Orthodox World

A Book Discussion “Degrees of Separation”

Join us in conversation with Schneur Zalman Newfield about his experiences and dozens of Hasidic exiters and their decision to leave the ultraorthodox community, the struggles they faced, and how that experience has changed their Jewish identity today.

Thursday, May 13th
7:30pm via Zoom

Schneur Zalman Newfield is an Assistant Professor of Sociology at Borough of Manhattan Community College, City University of New York, and the author of Degrees of Separation: Identity Formation While Leaving Ultra-Orthodox Judaism. Newfield is also a host on the Jewish Studies channel of the New Books Network podcast. ZalmanNewfield.com

Register:

www.bethsholomcongregation.org/form/degrees-of-separation.html